

Clothing Specialist BORTEX also elects W+P PERDRESS

BORTEX, the successful individualist, implements W+P Software within a few days

Many software solutions were tested by the BORTEX team. But only PERDRESS from the market leader W+P could convince both management and users. PERDRESS is a all-in-one solution for companies specializing in the clothing industry. The field of application of PERDRESS comprises cost accounting, reporting, production planning, materials management, master data administration, enterprise resource planning, controlling and invoicing.

Bernd Heidotting, owner of BORTEX, "Not only a precise reproduction of the company's processes, but also a flexible adaptation to our workflow made a smooth change of the software system possible."

The determining factor for choosing W+P PERDRESS was the very positive attitude of W+P as well as the high level of professional competence of the project team. BORTEX got the chance to test the product within a test run. It was a great success for W+P to accomplish an error-free test and to satisfy all BORTEX users completely.

The W+P solution is implemented with VPN (Virtual Private Network) technology. According to that, BORTEX works on a separate part of the IBM iSeries with W+P in Berlin. This causes an enormous cost reduction. The high secure encoded data transfer with IPsec is proceeded over a standard DSL connection. That way there will be no difference to a direct solution even with about 25 users online. "Even the response time has been improved comparing to the old system", a BORTEX worker reported.

Visible enthusiastic Mr. Heidotting said, "The real-time test worked perfectly parallel to the daily business and without any complains or problems. This was possible because of the clear speedup of the processes by the software. All in all the satisfaction of my employees and the professional competence of the project and support team of W+P let me look positively ahead to future projects with W+P"
